This is transcribed from a typewritten document entitled
"A Biography or Family Tree of John Hammett Reynolds"
by J H Reynolds.

The notes in (parenthesis) are included in the document. Notes in [brackets]
belong to the transcriber. I have tried to copy the document exactly as written. Gina.

I was born two miles North of the present site of Morrilton, Arkansas, on November 30, 1871. - at that time known as Sardis Camp Ground.

My father, Rev. William Wallace Reynolds, a Methodist, was born in Lawrence County, Tennessee, December 8, 1837. He died in Arkansas on September, 22, 1882.

My mother, Margaret Irene Conley, was born in Searcy County Arkansas on August 28, 1848.

My grandparents, John Reynolds and Jane Ray Reynolds were natives of Tennessee and came to Arkansas soon after the civil War.

All we know of my great-grandfather is that he drowned in the Tennessee River, leaving one child, my grandfather, who grew up without knowledge of the family.

On my mother's side we have definite knowledge for several generations.
My mother was Margaret Irene Conley. Her father was Epaphroditus Conley.

Her mother was Mary Ann Conly, (nee Calhoun), a cousin to John C Calhoun.

Grandfather Conley was born in Virginia October 1, 1818. Grandmother was born in Tennessee about 1820. She died in 1878. Grandpa died in October 1893, age 75 years. Epaphroditus Conley was the son of Anderson Conley, who was the son of William (Bill) Conley (O'Connally) a typical Irishman who came here from Ireland. He dropped the trimmings and called the name Conley.

Reverend W W Reynolds, a Methodist minister, was born in Tennessee.
Parents, John Reynolds and Jane Ray Reynolds. She was Scotch. That is where we get to the Scotch-Irish blood. W W Reynolds was twice married, first wife (a Carter) a girl named Catherine (called Kate), who afterwards married Tip Phillips, and a boy Thomas, who died in childhood.

By his second wife, Margaret Irene Conley Reynolds, he had one son and three daughters, John Hammett, Minnie May (died in infancy), Hettie Luella, and Mabel Claire.

W W Reynolds died at (Appleton) Jerusalem, Arkansas September 22, 1882 of typhoid fever.

John Hammett Reynolds and Nora Montgomery were married at Appleton, Arkansas on September 10, 1893. Rev. Dr. J W Bruton officiating. They have six children living as follows:

1. Amy Vivian, June 20, 1894
2. Catherine Lillian Dec. 15, 1895
3. Francis Willard Dec. 17, 1898
4. Arthur Lee Nov. 10, 1900
5. Willie Lucille June 19, 1902
